

Program Plan:

Saturday May 5th, 2013 at The St. Lawrence Centre for the Arts, Bluma Appel Theatre at 27 Front Street East, Toronto, Canada.

Improv Care's theme for May 5th workshop is to create a take home puppet theatre and puppets.

The "Who's who? game" will give the children the opportunity to meet and greet each other by engaging in playful interactive games using popular rhymes/stories.

The "Imaginative" center
The Puppet Theater area

Create your own puppets and miniature theatre. Children will be able to construct, decorate and take home their creative designs.

The "Creations" area

Free Play Arts and Crafts for those children who prefer a little time for themselves or with a new friend

The "Quiet Center" area

Will include pillows, floor-mats and books

The "Board Games" tables

Connect Four, Trouble, Checkers, Chess, Clue, Uno, TicTacToe, Labyrinth, Monopoly Jr., Mankala and much more.

Improv Care programs are designed to be creative, educational, safe and inclusive. Special care is taken in providing programs that are sensitive to gender and culture as well as to the particular personalities and needs of individual children. The main element though, is always fun and our Improv child care professionals are experts in this department!

Please note that all Improv Care staff are Early Childhood Educators, Child and Youth Workers and Teachers with extensive education, experience and expertise in working with children. All are members of their professional associations. All are independently screened, have Infant/Toddler Standard First Aid and CPR, thorough professional reference checks and vulnerable sector police checks. Every effort is made to match staff with the interests and ages of the children attending the event. We also carry full liability insurance and a copy will be posted on site.